Grand Commandery Holds Two Days' Session Wich Ended Yesterday.

RAIN MARS OPENING DAY

Owensboro Next Year—M. H. H.
Davis Elected to Grand
Commandery

Paris welcomed the Grand Commandery of Kentucky Knights Templar, Wednesday, and the citizens extended a glad hand to the host of Knights and ladies who gathered for the sixty-fifth annual conclave.

Practically every commandery in the State had representatives here to participate in the ceremonies and enjoy the attendant festivities. It was estimated that 1,500 Knights and ladies were in attendance on the opening day of the two-days' session of the commandery.

Ideal weather conditions prevailed in the early morning Wednesday, the threatening elements giving way to warm sunshine, but only for a few short hours, when a deluge drove the masses of humanity that lined the streets to shelter, and marred the parade. Hundreds of people from surrounding towns were here to witness the parade.

Main street, with the decorations replaced after the heavy rain and wind storm Tuesday night, looked more beautiful than before.

The Paris Military Band, which had been augmented to twenty-five pieces, was engaged by Couer de Lion commandery No. 26, of Paris, and met all incoming delegations of Knights and ladies, and escorted them to the Reception Committee headquarters on Broadway, where they were provided with badges and programs and shown to their headquarters.

The Richmond and Versailles commanderies were the first to arrive Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The Covington and Louisville commanderies came later in the day. The Newport commandery arrived Wednesday morning, and on a special train the DeMolay commandery arrived in the city from Louisville. They carried a baggage car well filled with paraphernalia, refreshments, etc., and were prepared to have a royal good time.

Webb commandery, of Lexington, came over on two special cars on the interurban line, and by the hour the church services began Wednesday morning all the commanderies had representatives in the city to attend the ceremonies.

At 8:30 o'clock the commanderies assembled at their headquarters and marched to the Christian church, where the divine services were held. The church was crowded to overflowing, many being compelled to stand on the outside. The auditorium was reserved for the Knights, while the Sunday school and lecture rooms were turned over to the spectators.

Miss Betsy Ray presided at the organ, and rendered a program of choice music while the audience was assembling.

After all were seated, a solemn hush fell upon the vast assemblage, while Sir Knight William Yoeman, Right Eminent Grand Commander of Kentucky, announced the order of the exercises.

The invocation was pronounced by Sir Knight Rev. Dr. B. M. Shive, pastor of the Paris Presbyterian church, and a member of Couer de Lion commandery No. 26.

Sir Knight Hon. Claude M. Thomas then voiced the welcome of the Paris commandery and the people of Paris and Bourbon county to the visitors. He said that he should like to deliver the keys of the city to the Knights, but that Mayor Hinton, who had never united with the Knights Templar and does not wear the plumes of the order, says he has made diligent search for those keys which were delivered to the Knights upon the occasion of their last visit, and has been unable to find them. "This coming together in annual conclave to review everything that affects the Master's cause, is like the custom of the Knights of old who met once every year about the famous table at the feast of Pentecost to renew their vows of Knighthood," said Mr. Thomas.

"A glorious day is ahead of us if every Knight will give all his time to the service of the Blessed Redeemer, and will live up to the obligations assumed by him."

"Bourbon county is highly honored by the presence of this army of plumed Knights, and a gracious cordial welcome is extended to you." The address was followed by a response on behalf of the Grand Commandery by Sir Knight Rev. Robert J. Bamber, Junior Warden of Versailles commandery No. 3.

The response was courteous and gracious, the speaker saying that the Knights hoped to prove worthy of the kindness and hospitality extended to them, and to prove also that Knighthood is still in flower. They should be glad to appropriate everything in sight, and to show that they were not hard to please nor to feed, as compared with a horse or an elephant.

"May the conclave of 1912 go down in history. May this be one of the strongest links in memory's golden chain," said Mr. Bamber.

Following these addresses Rev. Carey E. Morgan, of Nashville, Tenn., delivered the annual sermon.

The music for the occasion was under the direction of Prof. Albert H.

Monkeys Stormed Gibraltar.

A modern Battle of Gibraltar took place in the old Moorish castle, used as a civil prison, between the monkeys that infest the Rock and the prison warders. One monkey nearly choked Senior Warden Cheehon to death and the simians finally drove their human foes into the prison. The monkeys have been considered almost tame. They are Barbary apes and are the only monkeys in Europe not in captivity.

Good Roads Movement.

The Democratic House of Representatives has given the good roads movement a flying start. This fact is of momentous importance to the people of this nation. Ever since the Constitution was written there has been talk of improving the public highways. It remained for this, the first session of the Sixty-second Congress, to actually do something toward bringing about that end. It required upward of a score of years to make a start toward stamping out railroad rebating and the law prohibiting that practice was passed in a month after the start was made. Likewise the pure food law lagged for seventeen years until an actual start was made. Within a few weeks after the talking was supplanted by action the law became a reality.

The Democrats in Congress have injected the first breath of life into the agitation for better roads. The House has actually passed a bill and as the matter now stands it is up to the Republican Senate and President to carry the work along. If they refuse the people will know exactly where to place the responsibility. Now that the Democrats have taken a definite step forward the issue becomes clear cut and direct.

In all the Democratic speeches supporting the bill for road improvement, which was introduced by Congressman Dorsey W. Shackleford, of Missouri, it was made plain that under the Democratic program it is proposed to spend that money which is now wasted, for road improvement.

Every year the government spends millions of dollars for the upkeep of navy yards, which all naval experts agree are useless. The Democrats propose to divert this money into the improvement of the roads.

Every year the government spends millions of dollars for ornate public buildings in small towns which could get along with a less expensive building, such, for instance, as the $75,000 postoffice in Sundance, Wyoming, town of 250 people. The Democrats do not object to a good, substantial post office wherever one is needed, but they believe a part of this money would benefit more people, and do more good if spent on the public roads.

At the present time there are in existence numerous government "commissions," such as the Canadian Boundary Commission, on which former Congressman Tawney, of Minnesota, gets a salary of $7,500 a year. These commissions seldom meet, and their only usefulness is to take care of "lame ducks" who fail of re-election. The Democrats propose to abolish these commissions, and to spend the money for road improvement.

"Improve the public roads with money that is now being wasted" is the Democratic battle cry.

CURIOUS BITS OF HISTORY

CHILDREN IN COAL MINES.

By A. W. MACY.

It seems incredible that within the last seventy-five years little children were employed in the coal mines of England and often treated no better than work-animals, yet such was the case. In 1842 a parliamentary commission reported that in many mines it was common for children to begin work underground at seven years old. In some they began at six, and in a few instances as early as five years old. One extreme case was reported where children were worked "as low as four years old," and "so young they had to be brought to work in their bed-gowns." In another case, the report said, "Children are sometimes brought to the pit at the age of six years, and are taken out of bed at four o'clock." The working day was from 14 to 16 hours. The ventilation in nearly all the mines was bad, and the drainage worse. The children were made to draw loads by means of a girdle and chain, going on all-fours, often "through avenues not so good as a common sewer, quite as wet, and oftentimes more contracted." The report aroused general indignation and resulted not only in excluding children from mines, but in revolutionizing labor conditions generally in England.

A WOMAN'S GOOD LOOKS

Depend on her general health and freedom from pain. Many a woman looks old before her time because of those irregularities which are essentially feminine. Starting from early womanhood, she suffers from frequently recurring derangements that upset her womanly health. If she be beautiful she grows into that mellow age without wrinkles and crowfoot about the eyes or the blue circles underneath. It is invariably the rule that such women suffer little, or not at all, from womanly derangements which sap the health and leave in the face the tell-tale story of pain and suffering. Dr. R. V. Pierce, the famous specialist in the diseases of women, found a prescription in his early practice that scotched the organism peculiar to womanhood—oiled the machinery, so to speak, of the human system—and helped the woman to pass those painful periods that scar-lined and aged her face. This remedy became the well-known Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, that has benefited thousands of women and saved them from misery and suffering at different periods in life.

MRS. HARKLEY E. PIERCE, of 214 Bright Street, Sarnia, Ont., writes: "I am now a well woman after suffering for three years and doctoring with several different doctors, each one saying it was something different, and the last one, after putting me through a thorough examination, said I was suffering from a growth, which, in time, would result in cancer, and said I would not live more than two years if not operated upon right away. I became hopelessly discouraged but would not consent to the operation as I was too weak and too much afraid, but at last, through the advice of a friend, I tried Dr. Pierce's medicines, and after using two bottles of the 'Favorite Prescription' I immediately felt a change. I also used two boxes of 'Healing Suppositories' and eight boxes of 'Lotion Tablets,' and can safely praise the name of Dr. Pierce's medicines to all who suffer from any female disease, for these medicines are all they are claimed to be, and I hope will help others as they have helped me."

Telling the Banana.

A banana is a hard thing for the greenhorn to buy right. One way to tell is by the tip end. If it is sweet the tip is small and comes to a sharp point. If there is an abundance of thick, tough skin, full of leathery fiber, something is wrong with the banana; maybe it has too much plantain in it. Avoid the banana with the tip all spread out with too much knotty skin at the end.—New York Press.

He is one of the fastest best headed horses in Kentucky, and has been a mile over my three-quarter track, which is at least three seconds slower than Lexington, in 2:09 1/2. Last half in 1:03 1/2, last quarter in :30 1/2. Although he is a pacer, he was a natural and fast trotter and could trot in 2:40 at two years old. He has served a few mares, and his colts are good individuals and fast. MILLERSBURG ITEMS.

Cadets of the M. M. I. put on the three-act drama, "The Toastmaster," to a large audience, Monday night. The play was not only good, but abounded in wit and humor, and was one of those pieces that was easily handled. The cast was well made up and every participant seemed to be especially adapted to the part assigned them. It was thoroughly natural, being a school drama made up of freshmen and sophomores contending for the right of supremacy at the banquet board of a large college. In this particular case the characters seemed to be equally strong, no especial heroes or heroines. However, cadets Miller, Blackburn, Harris and Hennessy, with Misses Smith and McClintock, carried off the honors of the evening. An impromptu reception was held for a short while at the close of the entertainment on the veranda and campus.

Tuesday at 10:30 a. m. commencement exercises took place at the drill hall and the eight members of the class of 1912 were greeted with another large audience. The baccalaureate address was delivered by Prof. R. G. Scott, of the Eastern Kentucky State Normal at Richmond. He took as the basis of his subject the building of the column in Solomon's temple and while he adhered strictly to his subject his little digressions from time to time, with his humorous stories, impressed the fundamentals of his thought more firmly on his hearers. At the close of the address Col. C. M. Best in a brief address introduced the class of 1912 to the audience and presented their diplomas. This was followed by the reading of the honor roll, Cadet Huffman, of Millersburg, received the highest honors, which entitles him to the medal. The officers for the coming year were then read, and at 12:20 the M. M. I. took furlough until next September. Quite a number of the cadets left on the various trains for their homes Tuesday afternoon and evening, but many, however, remained over until Wednesday. The year in every respect was entirely satisfactory and the prospects for the coming year are very flattering. A large part of the student body will return. New students have already been entered and Col. Best is receiving letters of inquiry almost daily. The following is the class of 1912: William Graves Blackburn, Georgetown; Chas. Moore Gentry, Lexington; William Jefferson Harris, Nolan, W. Va.; Jesse Day Kash, Hazel Green; Ollie Wathen McClure, North Middletown; Henry Benjamin Miller, Lexington; Edwin Wilder Wigglesworth, Cynthiana; Frank Curle Wigglesworth, Cynthiana.

The following is a list of the commencement guests: Mr. Clarence Miller, Cynthiana, with his mother, Mrs. Ada Miller; Carlton Ball, Lexington, with his parents, Squire and Mrs. A. C. Ball; Misses Anna Hutchcraft and Katherine Low, Paris, with W. M. Miller; Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Buckner, Paris, with Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Hill; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pyle, H. M. Pyles and John Pyles, Mayfield; Elmer Davis, Chas. McDarnell and Miss Anna Darley, Helena, at Stirmann House; Mrs. W. R. Becraft, Paris; Miss Nannie Barbee, Danville; Mrs. Salie Best, Sheley and Elgin Dalzell and Misses Thompson, of Little Rock, with Misses Gladys and Amelia Hurst; Mrs. Tandy Wigglesworth Pointdexter, Mr. and Mrs. William Wigglesworth, O. E. Rankin and Mr. Scott, Cynthiana; Misses Corinne Collins and Belle Horton, Paris; Mrs. Laura Hutchings, Carlisle; Messrs. B. Epperson, J. Epperson, Eagle, Cannon, Bowen, Moore, Ramsey, Pike, Owens and Carr, Winchester; Mr. Garrett, Cynthiana; Miss Reed, Cynthiana; L. D. Brewer and Lawrence Brewer, Harrodsburg; Messrs. Layne, Carlisle, and Wynn, Maysville, Wood, Schelley, Schuman and Steele, Dallas, Tex.; Mr. Bradley, Lexington; Mesdames Fleming, Fant, Kendall, Misses Julia and Laura Hull and Miss Overly, Falmingsburg.

The ball game Tuesday afternoon between the present team of M. M. I. and the Alumni resulted in a score of 6 to 2 in favor of the Alumni. The game was called off in the opening of the eighth inning on account of the rain.

Luther, the little son of George Howard, died Sunday at St. Joseph's Hospital, Lexington, after a lingering illness of typhoid fever. It will be remembered that his parents were stricken with the same disease during the winter, his mother dying about two months ago. The remains were interred in the Millersburg cemetery from the noon train Monday.

Oldest Woman Dead.

Claiming to be the oldest inhabitant in Kentucky, "Aunt Anne" Fee died at her home in Georgetown, Monday, at the age of 117. The date of her birth is authenticated by the record in the ancient Bible of the Renaker family, to whom she belonged until the abolition of slavery set her free. Up to a week ago she retained remarkable faculties and retentiveness of memory and could talk interestingly of times long ago.

Administration Forces Secures a Decided Victory.

The administration forces scored a decided victory in the State Convention held at Louisville Wednesday, and Governor James B. McCreary was elected Chairman of the convention over Senator-elect Ollie James by a vote of 558 to 576. Rufus H. Vansant was elected Chairman of the State Central and Executive Committees and J. C. C. Mayo was chosen as National Committeeman over Urey Woodson. Resolutions vigorously endorsing the State administration and the course of the Democratic members of Congress, and instructing the delegates to vote for Champ Clark as the Democratic nominee for President at the Baltimore convention, was passed.

The committee on permanent organization reported, recommending that the temporary organization be made permanent and the report was adopted. Hon. Robert Harding, of Boyle, and Hon. J. V. McChesney, of Franklin, were chosen electors-at-large.

The delegates-at-large as recommended by the committee on permanent organization and adopted by the convention are:

Governor James B. McCreary, Senator-elect Ollie James, Justus Goebel, John C. C. Mayo, J. C. W. Beckham, A. C. Stanley, Judge Allie W. Young, Ben Johnson.

Alternates—N. W. Utey, Herman Southern, B. W. Bradburn, J. A. Donaldson, B. A. Martin, Walter Hawkins, Ben B. Smith, M. M. Redwine. The committee also redrafted the party laws, making clear certain provisions that have been a subject of dispute, and making them conform to the new direct primary law.

The seventh district convention was held at the Galt House. M. J. Meagher, of Franklin county, called the convention to order and was elected chairman. S. C. Nuckols, Jr., of Woodford county, was elected secretary.

The election then proceeded as follows: Delegates National Convention—J. N. Camden, of Woodford; J. T. Hinton, of Bourbon.

Alternates National Convention—Elwood Hamilton, of Franklin; Ambrose Duley, of Henry.

Floating Cannery.

A new phase of scientific management has been put into operation out on our progressive Pacific coast by the conversion of the good old ship Glory of the Sea into a floating cannery of salmon. There is the whole proceedings right on one floating spot—catching, cleaning, cooking, canning, boxing and then, when the hold is full of the season's pack of cases, a tow of the factory into port and the market.

Come in and look at our beautiful stock of porch furniture. Also all kinds of furniture for the lawn, porch shades in all colors and sizes. J. T. HINTON.

Reason for Sea Burial.

Sea captains and sailors, from superstition founded upon good sense, do not like to carry dead bodies aboard their ships, burying at sea as soon as possible all who die. In old days one dead body infected with disease might mean the death and destruction of all men on the ship.

Paris Still on the Toboggan.

The Bourbonites continue to drop games and the present indications are that at the rate they are traveling, the bottom will be reached and then the season will be too far advanced to get a club together to retrieve their lost laurels. Tuesday afternoon the Frankfort aggregation came over and welcomed the locals in the easiest fashion, winning with plenty to spare and would have repeated the dose Wednesday had not the rain spoiled the field.

Yesterday afternoon the locals suffered the loss of a brace of games. The Celts from Lexington, ever ready to pour defeat on the lowly Bourbonites, celebrated Decoration Day double bill by putting it over the Paris aggregation twice, the first game resulting in a complete shutout, and in the second they barely escaped the same fate by a ninth inning rally that gave them two runs, while at the final end the Celts had chalked up five.

In the opening game the Celts pounded in three runs in one inning, which were all they were able to get off Blankenship, but Camille was less generous.

The contests, while resulting in defeats for the local team, were something of an improvement over their performances in the past few days, and with a little strengthening the club should be able to go up against any in the league without the least fear of a possible defeat. From the present outlook there seems to be a dearth of good hitters and as these are quite essential in pulling down games the management should scout about just a little in search of a few sluggers. It has been promised over and over again that Paris would have a good team to battle for the pennant, and the hooks are said to be out for several, but to this time none have put in their appearance, with the exception of Rube Harold, who was secured from the Lawmakers.

President Bacon had had communications from several men and one or two are said to be on their way, but when they will arrive is another matter. However it is hoped by the Paris fans that the management will succeed before long in getting together an aggregation that can at least interest the other clubs and put up exhibitions that will entertain the fans whether they win or not.

False Alarm.

The fire department was called out yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock in response to an alarm from box 18. A fire burning out in one of the houses opposite the Kelly stable on Seventh street was the cause of the alarm.

Two Extra Good Attractions at the Grand.

Kotaro, the little Jap, in a wire walking and juggling act is another sensation; and med. a tremendous hit in Frankfort the first part of the week. Three reels of those classy pictures which are rapidly making the Grand famous will constitute a bill which is hard to equal. "All the time just one little time." Burley Society to Distribute.

Plans for a distribution of funds from the sale of the Burley Tobacco Company's pool holdings are said to be under way, and a distribution of the money is to be made, it is said, between July 1 and 15. Efforts are now being made, according to reports, to dispose of the remainder of the company's holdings, and T. H. Kirk, the Cincinnati broker who has bought nearly all the other holdings of the Burley Society, has made several trips to Lexington within the past few days. Vice President Ferguson recently stated that the officials of the company are just as eager to close the matter up and make a final distribution as are the various pool members, and that the suit with the Pendleton county members settled, he saw no reason why a settlement could not soon be made.

Brenlin Window Shades

—Look much better, last longer!

The richest window curtains lose their beauty against the background of a shabby shade. To do your curtains justice set them off with shades of Brenlin. For Brenlin shades always hang straight and smooth, and contain no "fill-ins" to crack, wrinkle, fade or show unsightly "pin holes." They outlast the ordinary shade several times over, yet cost but a trifle more.

BRENLIN is made in many artistic tones and in Brenlin Duplex—colored one side, white the other. Come in and let us show you samples and quote prices.

Her Unlucky Star

"Do you remember," asked Laura, rather tragically of Helen, who was calling on her, "the time we sorority girls rented a cottage for a month at Robinsdale and I endeavored with my most persuasive arts to engage the wealthy landed proprietress to do our housework? Perhaps you recall how I labored with her under the mistaken idea that she was a newcomer in this land of the free and that she was looking for a job as cook when she came to see us?"

"Yes, I remember," answered Helen, with a reminiscent giggle. "I'm sure if I hadn't had the presence of mind to explain to her that you were so pitifully near sighted you could scarcely distinguish the faces of your most intimate friends she would have turned us all out of the cottage in her indignation. I hope I shall be forgiven that very helpful little fiction about your defective sight."

"Do you recollect," inquired Laura sternly, "that other occasion when I told the girl who roomed next to us at St. Agnes' school that I had almost perished during the sermon of the long winded stranger preacher who had been inflicted on us in the chapel one morning?"

"Yes," responded Helen, cheerily, "and she told you with unnecessary emphasis that the visiting clergyman was her father! I haven't forgotten your expression of dismay. It was too comical. And the enormous quantities of our precious goodies that you lavished upon her failed to soothe her injured feelings."

"Did I ever tell you," Laura asked again with a grim countenance, "how last summer I gratuitously and forcefully favored a Princeton freshman with my scathing opinion of any boy who couldn't pass his college entrance examinations? If I did tell you I must have added that I found out later that he was conditioned on three studies. Of course the bright little summer flirtation with him that I had dreamed of promptly shriveled into a mere frigid acquaintance."

"Why do you indulge in these painful reminiscences?" demanded Helen.

"Because of all the many malapropos things I have ever said or done there is none other that equals my latest. Helen, behold in me a quivering mass of contrition! I am thinking of having my hosiery cast by some professional wizard in the hope of discovering under which planet I am especially prone to make unfortunate remarks to the horror of myself and the indignation of my acquaintances. Then I could either have myself gagged or I could retire from society during that destructive period."

"Your latest unfortunate remark must have been even worse than the one you made that time when you mentioned to Mrs. Ackers out at the golf club that you had greatly enjoyed being in a foursome with her son and she thereupon jellily informed you that she had no son and that Mr. Ackers was her husband."

"Oh, that was a more pleasant compared to the thorough manner in which I have forever lowered myself in the opinion of my cousin, Tom Burrows. You know that I have always adored dear old Tom and when he confided to me a week ago that he was engaged I was tremendously excited. I begged him to tell me the name of the lucky girl. He described all her charms glowingly but refused to divulge her name—just to tease me, I supposed, for Tom has always been an incorrigible tease."

"Well, last evening at the Montrose dance Tom came to me and said that the time had come for the great meeting of his favorite cousin and his sweetheart."

"I eagerly followed him across the floor to the side of a most attractive looking girl. Then Tom actually introduced her to me as 'Miss Snickelfritz.'"

"Oh Tom!" I exclaimed, reproachfully. "How horrid of you!"

"Then I turned to the girl and said, 'Of course you've learned already that my cousin always has to have his little joke under all imaginable circumstances.'"

"Tom glared at me furiously, but I couldn't understand why, so I continued as pleasantly as I could, 'Please tell me your real name.'"

"Snickelfritz," she murmured. "I almost collapsed. Do you wonder that I feel it is necessary for me to take some kind of a cure? I suppose Tom will never forgive me."

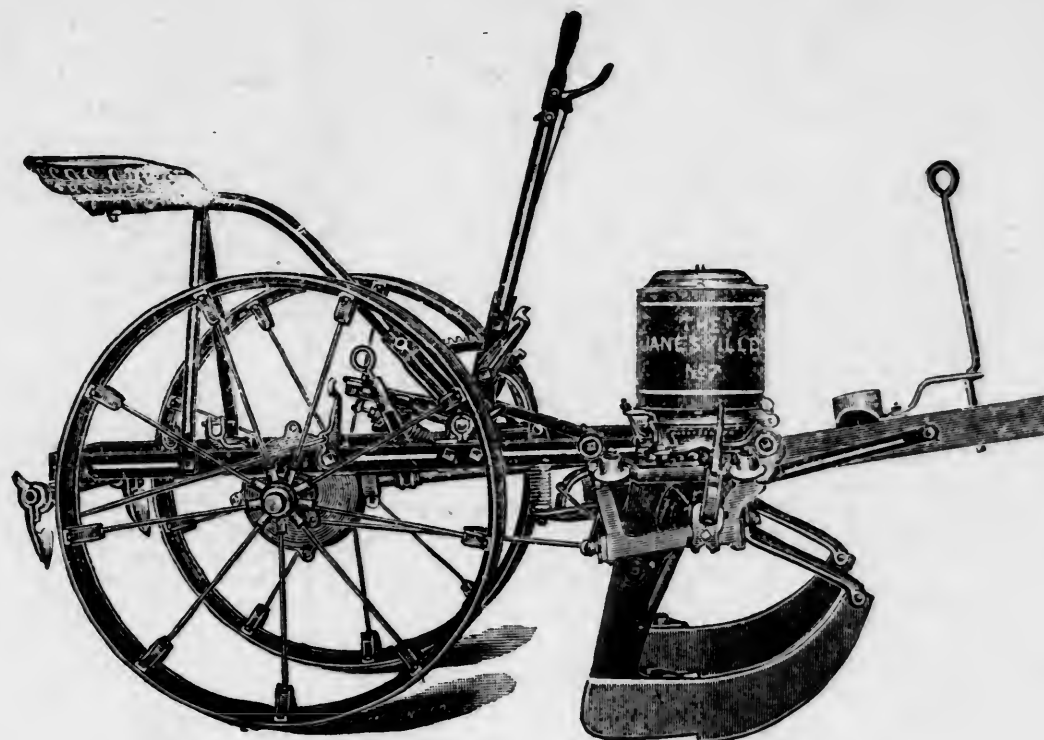

"Most certainly not, Laura," was Helen's none too comforting assurance. "How could he, when the name is doubtless a thorn in his flesh? Snickelfritz! Isn't it dreadful? How delighted she will be to change her name!"—Chicago Daily News.

London's Consumption of Water. London consumed the enormous total of 223,536,884 gallons of water every day last year. This means that each of the seven million odd persons in the Metropolis used 31.57 gallons a day, and that at each house 204.24 gallons were disposed of in the same period.

CURIOUS BITS OF HISTORY

A HEROIC SPANISH MAIDEN.

By A. W. MACY.

A woman helped to give Napoleon his first check and to show Europe that he was not invincible. Her name was Agustina, and she is known in history as the Maid of Saragossa. In the Peninsular war the city of Saragossa was twice besieged by the French army; once in the summer of 1808 and again the following winter. The city had no fortifications but crumbling walls, behind which were a few ancient cannon; but the whole population, men, women and children, rushed to its defense. Bravest of them all was Agustina. She was not a woman of quality, only a lemonade seller in the streets; but she performed mighty deeds of valor and by her example encouraged others to acts of bravery. Once when a cannoner fell mortally wounded she snatched the fuse from his hand and herself fired the cannon. For her brave actions she was made an officer in the Spanish army, and presented with many decorations. Saragossa fell, but only after 50,000 of her citizens had perished from war and pestilence. Her heroic defense staggered Napoleon for a time, for it revealed the intrepid spirit of a people when fighting for their homes. Agustina lived to be very old, dying in 1857.

Are You Nervous?

What makes you nervous? It is the weakness of your womanly constitution, which cannot stand the strain of the hard work you do. As a result, you break down, and ruin your entire nervous system. Don't keep this up! Take Cardui, the woman's tonic. Cardui is made from purely vegetable ingredients. It acts gently on the womanly organs, and helps them to do their proper work. It relieves pain and restores health, in a natural manner, by going to the source of the trouble and building up the bodily strength.

TAKE CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

Mrs. Grace Fortner, of Man, W. Va., took Cardui. This is what she says about it: "I was so weak and nervous, I could not bear to have anyone near me. I had fainting spells, and I lost flesh every day. The first dose of Cardui helped me. Now, I am entirely cured of the fainting spells, and I cannot say enough for Cardui, for I know it saved my life." It is the best tonic for women.

Do you suffer from any of the pains peculiar to women? Take Cardui. It will help you. Ask your druggist.

TRAVELED AS YOUNG LADY

Miss Six-Year-Old Fully Conscious of the Dignity That Henceforth Was Hers.

Looking much like a pretty picture in colors that had stepped right out of a fashion plate, a dainty little miss stood on a street crossing in Yonkers and signaled a motorman to stop his car. He brought it to a halt so the child would not have to walk in the muddy street and the conductor helped her up the high step, for the small traveler was alone. More than that, he refrained from jerking the bell rope until she was seated, so she was not thrown off her feet at the sudden turning on of electric power. But she was short of stature and was obliged to sit on the edge of the seat to let her legs hang down, for otherwise they would have stuck out straight. Selecting a nickel from a tiny purse she extracted from her white fur muff, she extended it to the conductor when he came along. He gave her 2 cents change.

"You'll soon be a young lady and pay full fare," he said, with an attempt at gallantry.

Up went a little hand, holding the two pennies between finger and thumb. The conductor was puzzled, until the child spoke.

"I don't want any change," she explained. "Mamma says I'm a young lady now, 'cause I'm 6 years old today."

With an indulgent smile the conductor took the coins.—New York Press.

SPANISH JEWS IN NEW YORK

Ten Thousand of That Race and Faith Known to Be Residents of the Metropolis.

Almost unknown to the general community is the steadily increasing immigration into New York of Spanish speaking Jews from the Orient. It is estimated that these descendants of the Jewry expelled from the Iberian peninsula over 400 years ago now number about 10,000 in New York city.

Others are spreading abroad throughout the country, and a body of these Jews who have clung so faithfully to their Spanish tongue held religious services according to their own minhag last Rosh Hashona so far west as Portland, Ore.

In New York they are at least numerous enough to support two newspapers printed in Ladino-Spanish in Hebrew characters, one, appearing weekly, entitled L'America, edited by H. S. Gadol, the other a daily paper entitled El Agulla, edited by Mr. Mizrahi.

This immigration has become so considerable that the Hebrew Sheltering and Immigration Aid society has recently been compelled to form an Oriental bureau, through which the immigrant Jew speaking Spanish, Greek, Turkish, Arabic or Sephardic Hebrew can receive proper care.

Comedy in Maryland's Senate.

"Down at Annapolis the other day the legislators had a bit of comedy furnished them that does not ordinarily enter into the deliberations of a legislative body," remarked Charles Hamilton of Baltimore at the Raleigh.

"It seems that Senator Blair Lee, who was a candidate for the gubernatorial nomination last year, started to dress in evening attire to attend the reception given by Governor Goldsborough. He was impatient, the story goes, and in attempting to fasten his collar lost his only collar button. He looked around his room for an hour, and when he recovered the lost button it was mashed so that it could not be used. The senator had trod on it. He finally succeeded in borrowing one, but when he got to the governor's reception most of the guests had departed."

"One of Senator Lee's friends heard of the occurrence, and he rose, in the senate and with the severest dignity offered a resolution. It provided for an appropriation sufficient to purchase a gross of collar buttons for Senator Lee that he might in the future be in time at official functions."—Washington Post.

Speaking Conscientiously.

Senator La Follette during his recent visit to Philadelphia said to a reporter, apropos of a flagrant piece of hypocrisy:

"Why, the man's as bad as a New-poor groom I heard of the other day. 'This groom' stood beside his master while a veterinary examined a costly cob. The veterinary, at the end of his examination, pronounced the cob incurable and took leave. Then the master, sighing heavily, turned to the groom and said: 'Well, James, what am I to do with the poor beast now?' 'Conscientiously speaking, sir,' the groom replied, 'I think you'd better part with him now to another gentleman, sir.'"

On the Job.

Representative Hamilton of West Virginia paid a tribute to Republican Leader Mann that is a gem in its way. "The gentleman from Illinois," said Mr. Hamilton, "only eats on Sundays and never sleeps at all. If he had been a marshal under Napoleon at Waterloo the battle might have resulted differently, because he would have discovered the absence of Grouchy at the proper time and suggested the absence of a quorum. And, if necessary, he would have halted the hosts of Wellington by a well-interposed demand for the yeas and nays."

Don't forget the water.

Clean out feed troughs daily.

Pekins lay from 120 to 170 eggs per year.

Alsike clover helps out the stand of red clover.

A purplish red comb indicates bad health in a fowl.

Test out infertile eggs on tenth and seventeenth days.

A quart of mixed feed is about right for twelve hens.

If you wish to succeed, know that your hens are comfortable.

Do not make too violent crosses. Select a type and stick to it.

It is not so much the make of incubator as the man who runs it.

Air-slaked lime is a valuable disinfectant in the poultry house.

Variety is always good, but sudden and abrupt changes are dangerous.

It pays in more ways than one to be on friendly terms with the helpers.

The sort of seed corn to select is the kind that produces bushels per acre.

Correct sour or acid soil with one to five tons per acre of crushed limestone.

To maintain normal soil fertility the supply of humus must be conserved.

The business hen is the hen that puts her daily credits in the egg basket.

The only proper way to replenish the flock is to save the best lambs each year.

A common cause of slow churning is an overfilled churn. Half full is about right.

Dirty collars are probably as responsible for sore shoulders as ill-fitting ones.

Keep the horses well cleaned, but remember that you can be cruel with the curry comb.

The hopper system of feeding is a good one, but put only one kind of feed in one hopper.

The fault of too many dairy farmers is failure to make the cows produce up to their limit.

Too much corn has caused the loss of many a fine litter of pigs, and often the loss of the sow as well.

In raising horses for one's own use it should be done as intelligently as if it were to be a regular business.

Spraying is one of the unavoidable tasks of the farmer who would keep his orchard in desirable condition.

Arsenate of lead which is held over from the year before will be good if it has not dried out and become a hard lump.

When turkeys are penned up to fatten for market, good results are not obtained if they are cramped for room.

Now and then put a little brine on the straw. It acts as an appetizer, and the sheep clean up the straw better.

A heifer may give as much milk in proportion to the food eaten as a mature cow, and make some growth in addition.

A paint brush that has become hardened with paint can be made soft and pliable by immersing it in boiling vinegar.

It is just as easy to multiply defects in breeding as it is to strengthen good points; and many people are doing the former.

The colt crop on the general farm may be made a by-product that will cost very little, but swell the bank account considerably.

Seed corn? Of course you have it all in good shape and ready for the germination test. Do not plant a grain unless you know it comes from sound stock.

The best medicine in the world for poultry are dry, clean quarters and lots of sunshine. Better lose every other poultry recipe known than to forget this.

The great need of the day is educated dairymen, men who understand the care and feeding of the cow as well as the successful marketing of her products.

Test the spray hose several days before needed for spraying. Try it with the highest pressure you will use. If it bursts easily or leaks, make the needed repairs, in it, or get a new hose. It will save delays at a critical time.

Something similar to a scantling, a foot or two from the ground, is the only proper perch for turkeys. This allows the breastbones to grow straight, making the birds worth a cent or two more per pound on the market.

Graduates With Honor.

Mr. Richard Clark, who is a guest of his mother, Mrs. Kate Clark, in this city, graduated last week from the Ohio Dental College with first honors in the class of forty-five. Mr. Clark will practice dentistry, but has not decided upon a location. He is a graduate of the Paris High School, and the fact that he stood at the head of his class reflects much credit upon the earnestness of his efforts.

Morehead, and a choir of trained voices rendered several fine anthems, the solo work being done by Mrs. Frank Fithian, Mrs. Owen Davis, Sir Knight Dr. Frank Fithian, Frank P. Walker and Prof. Morehead. The religious services were conducted by Sir Knight Rev. Dr. B. M. Shive, and the Knights presented an impressive scene as they solemnly knelt in prayer, led by Dr. Shive, and concluding with the Lord's Prayer in unison. Immediately following the conclusion of the ceremonies at the church the big parade formed on High street under the direction of Sir Knight Mason P. Brown, Grand Captain-General and Sir Knight J. Quincy Ward, Grand Marshal.

The line of marching Knights was headed by Coeur de Lion commandery, of this city, with practically every member in line and presenting a very handsome appearance.

It is estimated that six hundred Knights were in line. The parade, which was scheduled to start at 10:30, did not get under way until nearly 12 o'clock.

First came the Paris police on horseback, headed by Chief of Police Elgin. Then a mounted escort of Grand Commandery officers, resplendent in gold braid uniform. The Paris Military Band at the head of Coeur de Lion commandery of Paris.

Louisville commandery No. 1 came next, headed by the Knights Templar Band of that city.

Webb commandery No. 2, of Lexington, headed by J. Bruce Davis, came next, and made a fine showing.

It was preceded by the State University Cadet Band in kakhi uniform, and was repeatedly cheered along the line of march.

Greila's Band, of Lexington, headed Versailles commandery No. 3, which was next in line.

The Shelbyville and Frankfort commanderies marched together, as did the Mt. Sterling and Richmond commanderies, which were preceded by the Mt. Sterling band of twenty pieces.

Covington commandery No. 7 was preceded by Smittie's Band, one of the finest parade bands in the country, and made a brave showing.

The Georgetown and Maysville commanderies marched to the music of the Paris High School Band.

Newport commandery No. 13, despite the "hoodoo" number, sent a large delegation and, headed by Hoeber's Band of twenty pieces, was one of the largest commanderies in the parade.

The famous De Molay commandery, of Louisville, was next in line, and was loudly cheered along the line of march.

The Carlisle commandery brought with it the Ewing Band, which made splendid music for the inspiration of the Nicholas Knights.

Marion commandery, of Lebanon, was the last in the line of march.

Following the Knights came the Grand Commandery officers and Past Eminent Commanders in automobiles. In this party was Past Eminent Grand Commander John G. Cramer of Lexington, resplendent in his gold braid uniform and insignia of the order.

All of the commanderies carried beautiful banners, which added to the splendor of the pageant.

Immediately following the parade a heavy shower of rain fell, which drove the crowds to shelter and somewhat marred the decorations.

The day closed with several brilliant social events. The Maysville Commandery gave a reception and lawn party at its headquarters from 3 until 5 o'clock and from 4 to 6 the Richmond and Mt. Sterling commanderies entertained with a reception at Bourbon College.

One of the most brilliant events of the conclave was the reception and fete given by Louisville Commandery No. 1 at the residence of Miss Flora Hill at the corner of Main and Fifteenth streets. The lawn in front of the residence was illuminated with a myriad of incandescent electric lights and Japanese lanterns. This commandery received between the hours of 8 and 10 p. m.

Webb Commandery No. 2 of Lexington, held a reception and dance at the Windsor Hotel from 8 to 12 o'clock, which was a distinct success in every particular and largely attended. At the same time the Covington commandery entertained with a dance at Elks' Hall, which was a most enjoyable social event.

Yesterday morning the Grand Commandery went into session at 9 o'clock to conclude the business of the conclave with the election of officers for the ensuing year and the selection of a city in which to hold the conclave next year.

Coeur de Lion Commandery, of this city, was honored by having one of its most popular members assume a place among the Grand Commandery officers. By a unanimous vote Miles H. H. Davis, Past Eminent Commander of the local organization, was elected as Grand Captain of the Guard. Mr. Davis is one of the most prominent members of the Masonic order in the State, and the honor conferred upon him is a fitting compliment. He has taken an exceedingly active part in the affairs of the local commandery and the success of the conclave is due in a great measure to his efforts as Chairman of the Executive and Finance Committees.

Before leaving the newly elected officers the Grand Commandery selected Owensboro as the place for holding the conclave next year.

As was the case Wednesday the visiting Knights and ladies were served dinner in the basement of the court house, and the bountiful repast which only the good women of Bourbon can prepare, was heartily enjoyed.

Following are the Grand Commandery officers elected:

Sir Knight Lee Davis, Owensboro, Right Eminent Grand Commander.
Sir Knight Thomas Palmer Satterwhite, Jr., Louisville, Very Eminent Grand Commander.

Sir Knight Mason Preston Brown, Frankfort, Eminent Grand Generalissimo.

Sir Knight Chas. Nathan Smith, Danville, Eminent Grand Captain General.

Sir Knight Henry Pendleton Barrett, Henderson, Eminent Grand Senior Warden.

Sir Knight Nesbit Richardson, Ashland, Eminent Grand Junior Warden.
Sir Knight Frederick William Hardwick, Louisville, Eminent Grand Pre-

Sir Knight Robert Curtis Stockton, Richmond, Eminent Grand Treasurer.
Sir Knight Alfred Hughes Bryant, Covington, Eminent Grand Recorder.
Sir Knight Taylor Mitchell Estes, Lebanon, Eminent Grand Standard Bearer.

Sir Knight Albert A. Hazenrigg, Mt. Sterling, Eminent Grand Sword Bearer.

Sir Knight Samuel Pearce Browning, Maysville, Eminent Grand Warder.

Sir Knight Miles H. H. Davis, Paris,

Eminent Grand Captain of the Guard.

Immediately after dinner, as many of the visiting Knights and ladies who could be accommodated with means of transportation were taken to Millersburg in automobiles, where refreshments were served them at Millersburg Military Institute and Millersburg Female College. The Paris Military Band went to Millersburg on the 12:15 L. and N. train to furnish the music for the occasion.

Blue Grass Crop Heavy in Kentucky.

The crop of bluegrass seed which is ready to be gathered is considered the heaviest that has been raised for several years. Central Kentucky produces practically all of the bluegrass of the world, and the crop of seed is one of the important revenues of the Central Kentucky farmer. The annual production runs all the way from 300,000 to 800,000 bushels, and this year it is estimated may make almost 1,000,000 bushels. The price varies from 40 or 50 cents to $1 per bushel. In view of the heavy crop the sales this year are starting at 50 cents a bushel as it stands in the pasture, the buyer doing the stripping. An acre of bluegrass will produce from 15 to 30 bushels of seed, and as the reaping of the seed in no way impairs the value of the grass for grazing purposes, the sale of the seed stands as a special premium paid annually to the owner of bluegrass sod.
